

Getting Started: Making Lessons

Visit speakagent.com to login with the username and password emailed to you. Your Home page (shown below) is a teacher-only view for managing lessons.

“Your Wordlists” and “Your Lessons” show items that you created. Use these links to edit them.

“New Wordlists” and “New Lessons” show items made by any user. You cannot edit them (but soon will be able to make a copy).

The screenshot shows the Speak Agent Home page. On the left is a sidebar with navigation links: Home, Your Wordlists, Your Lessons, Your Classes, and Your Students. The main content area has a teal header with the Speak Agent logo and a user icon. Below the header, it says "Howdy, dolittle!" and "News from Speak Agent". A welcome message follows: "Welcome to the Speak Agent beta test. We hope we can brighten your day! You will see updates here from time to time." Below this are two sections: "New Wordlists" and "New Lessons". Each section has a table of items and a "+ Add" button. The "New Wordlists" table lists wordlists like "My Home", "Reptiles", "Fun with Fruit!", "Colors", and "Numbers" with their target languages. The "New Lessons" table lists lessons like "Test lesson", "Lesson D", "Lesson C", "Lesson B", and "Lesson A". Callouts point to the "Your Wordlists" and "Your Lessons" links in the sidebar, the "New Wordlists" and "New Lessons" sections, and the "Your Students" link in the sidebar.

Start by adding wordlists for each unit or theme you teach.

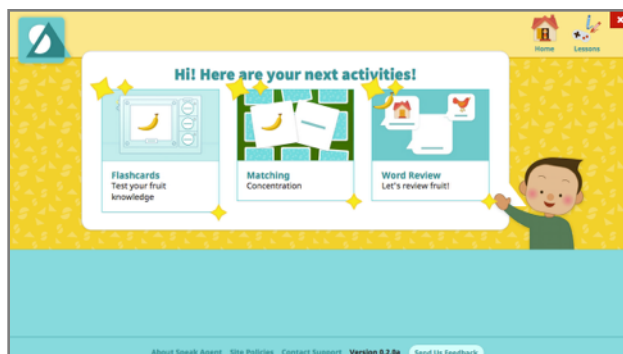

Then make lessons that use your wordlists or shared wordlists.

Getting Started: The Student Experience

A unique username and password is generated when you add each student.
The images below illustrate how students see the lessons you create:

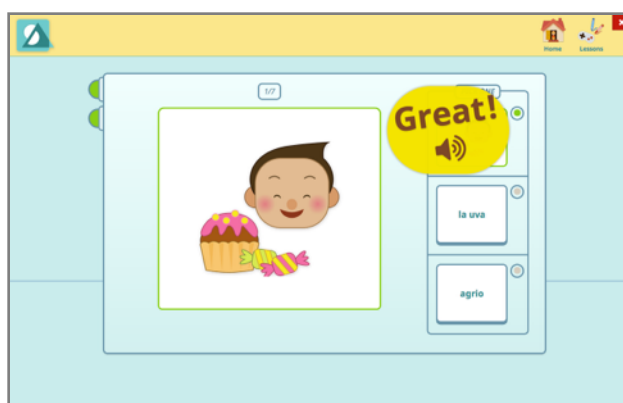

Find Activities

A student's Home page shows the three most recently assigned activities. Students can click Lessons at top-right to see a full list of lessons assigned to them or to the class.

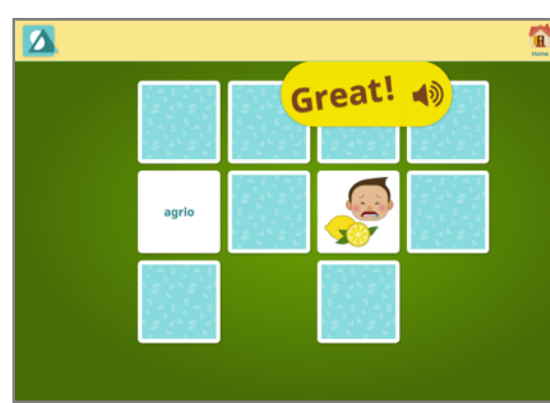

Word Review

Students practice wordlists by listening to voice recordings and viewing illustrative photos and word details. Left-right arrows cycle through the list.

Interactive Flashcards

Students practice your custom wordlists by audiovisual association. Students can play audio to hear each word before choosing an answer that matches the symbol.

Matching

Students match images with text from your custom wordlists. Word audio plays each time a symbol is viewed so as to reinforce audiovisual association.
